GENEALOGICAL RECORDS.

Explanations, Abbreviations, etc.

For convenience the records of the various Lewis families are divided into Books and each Book into chapters. At the head of each Book appears the name of the earliest known ancestor of that family. The List of Books is a complete index to the Books as published to this time. New Books will be added from time to time as new branches of the Lewis family are found. As soon as Books are proved parts of others they will be merged into the Books to which they belong. Each name is numbered when first printed and whenever the name is repeated this number follows in brackets. The abbreviations commonly used in genealogical work are used. as b. for born: d. died: m. married: m. (1) first wife: dau. daughter: unm: not married: v. p. see page, etc.

Hints for Contributors.

In writing matter for the printer use only one side of the sheet, note paper preferred. In giving dates, give year, month and day whenever known. Write all middle names in full. Give names and addresses of such people as you think may be able to complete the record but get it yourself if possible and spare the editor. Old newspaper files, tomb stones, family Bibles and records, official records of the town, school and church, burial certificates, county and probate records, old deeds and letters are some of the more important sources of information. Don't forget however the stores of information which the old people can give—Get them interested and then "pump them dry." Most important of all, don't get discouraged yourself. How can you interest others, if you yourself are not alive with enthusiasm?

GEORGE LEWIS, Hopkinton, R. I.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

FROM OXFORD, (N. Y.) PRESS.

Mrs. Hannah Lewis Burdick (62 v p 37 Vol. 1, reprint) died in McDonough, N. Y., February 23, 1900. She was born in Preston, N. Y., Nov. 21, 1810. Her parents were Clark Lewis and Mary Wilcox, who died in Preston in 1853-1855. Her grandfather, Samuel Lewis, came from Voluntown, Conn., to Preston, with wife and children in 1804, where he died in 1818. He had been a soldier in the war of the Revolution during the years 1778 and 1779, as was also his elder brother Eleazer.

Hannah Lewis married William R. Burdick September 4th, 1836. In the following winter they moved to Norwich, where Mr. Burdick formed a partnership with John Heady in the tanning business. He afterwards purchased a tannery at Mt. Upton and moved there, but in 1841 he moved to McDonough and built a tannery, which he carried on for forty-two years. Since the death of her husband in 1893, Mrs. Burdick has resided at the homestead in McDonough. Mr. and Mrs. Burdick were the parents of seven children. The living are Mrs. William M. Hiller of Factoryville, Pa., Mrs. Eber Jones of Oxford, Erford W. Burdick of Chicago, and Lewis D. Burdick of McDonough.

Mrs. Burdick was of slight and frail physique, but had untiring energy and marvelous endurance. Through all her life she wrought with ceaseless activity to promote the welfare of home, family and friends. She was a kind, faithful, devoted lovable and loving wife and mother.

CHAPTER CCIV.

BY GEORGE S. SHEPPARD, PENN YAN,
N. Y.

Judge Lewis once told me that his gr. father, John (808 v p 102 Vol. VI.) was a tutor at Yale and his father, John Livy (851) took a course there but did not receive a degree. A sister, Mrs. Sarah E. Livermore, resides at Jackson, Mich., a brother, Martin B. Lewis at Red Wing, Minn., and a nephew, John L. Lewis at Corning, N. Y. A little book with many illustrations is being prepared as a souvenir of the unveiling of the monument in June next.

CHAPTER CCV.

A NEW YORK CLIPPING.

Among those who stood prominent in masonic circles was the late John Livy Lewis of Penn Yan. He was born July 17, 1813, in the village of Dresden and died in Penn Yan, June 11, 1889. For many years he had been a prominent figure, not only in the county, but throughout Western New York. He was a lawyer of considerable note and a prominent member of the Democratic party. His first public office was that of clerk in the Penn Yan postoffice, which he held for a time. After that he devoted himself to the study of law, part of the time in the office of Henry A. Wisner and afterward in that of William M. Oliver. He was admitted to practice in the State and United States courts.

Mr. Lewis had the advantage of excellent tutelage in his youth from his father who was one of the pioneer school teachers of Yates County and was a highly educated man. Hence early in life Judge Lewis was recognized as a scholar with scholarly tastes and habits. He possessed rare ability as a speaker, and in his prime was often called on on public occasions for addresses. His diction was classic and his delivery faultless. No young man has grown up here who ever gave better promise of great distinction in his profession than did he.

He seemed to attain the highest measure of his success in his chosen profession early in life. He was appointed District Attorney of Yates County in the year of 1841, and held that office until June, 1847, when he was succeeded by Daniel Morris, who was then elected by popular vote under the constitution of 1846. In the year of 1851 he was elected County Judge and Surrogate, and held that office for one term. He continued in practice until his death, which occurred in the year 1889. He was Regent of the University from February 7, 1871, to his death. In his latter years Judge Lewis was sadly afflicted in the death of his wife and his two children. These bereavements seemed to crush his spirit and no doubt unnerved him. He was a very genial man, fluent and edifying in his conversation, and enjoyed the confidence and respect of all who knew him. The monument just erected by the Masonic fraternity shows in a slight way the appreciation of a man who has done so much for the order.

CHAPTER CLX.

THE TENTH GENERATION.

Great is the joy when an heir is born, but greater is the joy when the event comes in a family where the male representatives have dwindled to one or two and the family name seems about to be lost. Surely all Lewises can sympathize with the delighted members of this branch of our name on the birth of Henry Foster Lewis, Jr. (1381 v p 137 Vol. IX) on Feby. 26, 1900, being the tenth generation of George Lewis of West Greenwich, England. May his future be bright and his record noteworthy!

CHAPTER CLXI.

FROM SPRINGFIELD, MASS., REPUBLICAN.

Mrs. Cynthia Conant, (1153 v p 152 Vol. VIII) 101 years old, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Norris, Jan. 3, 1900. For the past four years she had been steadily failing in health. She was unquestionably the oldest resident of the city, and while she had not been in active life for many years, because of her ill health, she was well known to many because of the extreme length of her life. She was a woman of gentle nature and sweet character, one who was never in an unpleasant temper, and always grateful for any favor, whether small or great, that was done for her. Not large of stature, she had a face sweet, though worn and wrinkled, and when she realized that she was reaching the goal of her long life, she made no murmur or complaint. Mrs. Conant suffered from a severe attack of the grip in 1896, and her life was then despaired of, but she rallied with wonderful strength, and while never herself mentally since that time, she has been bodily strong, though unable to walk or perform any household duties, as had been her custom up to that time. On Sept. 14, 1898, she celebrated her 100th birthday, and many of her friends came to her house to offer their congratulations and bring her gifts.

Mrs. Conant had seen the calendar change from 1700 to 1800, and again from 1800 to 1900. It had long been a cherished hope of hers that she might live to boast of this event, and although she died within three days of the time to which she had been looking forward with such great anticipation, her wish was gratified.

CHAPTER CXLII.

BY CAROLINE H. LEWIS, WESTFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS.

The following is a certified copy (J. F. Mahoney, Register, Apr. 26, 1892) of will of John Sr. (2) of which an extract appeared in Feby. issue:

In nomine Domine, Amen.

I John Lewis Senr. of Lynn being of sound understanding and memory through ye goodness of God, considering the frailty of humane life, in generall, and mine own age in particular, not knowing how soon it may please God to take me out of this transitory life, and being desirous to make a settlement of my outward estate, and prevent any difference, which otherwise might arise, after my death between my wife and my children, do make this my last will and testament as followeth. And first of all I do commend my soul into the hands of my Mercifull Redeemer and Savior the Ld. Jesus Christ through whose alone, precious merits and meditation I hope to have the pardon of all my sins and a blessed Resurrection at the last day and my body to the earth from whence it was taken to be buried in such decent manner as to my Executrix hereafter named, shall seem meet. And as for that outward estate which God of his goodness hath lent unto me, I do dispose of it as hereafter is expressed, for as much as I have formerly done for my Children what I judge meet and sufficient and am now desirous according to my duty and ability to provide, for ye comfortable livelyhood and subsistence, of my loving wife, after my decease, if it be the pleasure of God that she outlive me, I do therefore give unto my sd. loving wife, Sarah Lewis and my will is that she shall receive, have and enjoy to her own absolute use and dispose, my whole estate, not formerly by me otherwise disposed of, both reall and personall, whether in money or household stuff, or stock, or cloathing and also all debts and dues owing unto me, from any and every person whither by bill, bond or other wayes. And I do constitute, ordain and appoint my sd. loving wife, Sarah Lewis to be, my sole Executrix of this my last will and appointing my loving friends Mr. John Floyd of Rumny marish and William Miriam of Lynn to be my Overseers whom I pray to be Assisting unto my loving wife in the execution of this my will, which I do hereby declare to be my last will and testament, nulling and making void all former or other wills by me, made or pretended to be made so that this only shall be, taken for my last will and testament. In confirmation whereof I do Sign, seal and publish the same, this twenty-six day of February One Thousand seven hundred six, seven.

A DESCENDANT OF WASHINGTON.

Standing in the crowd at Mount Vernon recently without any mark of distinction, or without presenting any claims, was Mrs. William Thomas Underwood, of Chicago, Betty Washington's great-granddaughter. Betty Washington was mother of Howell Lewis (23 v p 123 Vol. IV) and his daughter married Mr. Lovell, of Kentucky. Mrs. Underwood's father. Mrs. Underwood's grandmother possesses Washington's scapula and all of his Masonic relics, which are kept in a safety deposit vault.

While I cannot add any new names to list of ch of John and Elizabeth (Warner) Lewis (v p 105 Vol. X) my record verified by the late Mrs. Payne gives the twins Catherine and Elizabeth as born 1705. Possibly the set bap. 1702, died and the next (as frequently was done) were given the same names. If so, this would make two more of the 14 ch.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

FROM NEW YORK STREET NAMES.

Lewis street, like Lewis county, this state, owes its name to Morgan Lewis, son of the wealthy old-time merchant and unflinching patriot, Francis Lewis who disinherited his daughter for marrying a British officer.

Morgan Lewis was to the fore "when ran Liberty's call." He fought through the great war, was present at Burgoyne's surrender, and afterward led the advance at Stone Arabia.

When peace was established he obtained his admission to the bar, became Judge of the Supreme Court in 1792, Chief Justice in 1801, Governor in 1804, and lived an honored patriarch until 1844.

CHAPTER XXXV.

FROM THE SETONS OF SCOTLAND AND AMERICA.

Capt. George Robertson, R. N. eldest son of Dr. William and Mary (Seton) Robertson, created a sensation during the American Revolution by marrying Ann Lewis (5 v p 138 Vol. VII), a Philadelphia beauty, whose mother was a New York Livingston, and therefore bitterly opposed to British interests. Capt. Robertson was maternal gr. father of the Ist. Lord Monerieff. Mr. William Seton of New York has a very beautiful silver mounted shell snuff box, a Cypraea Mauritiana, whose habitat is the Indian Ocean, with an inscription and the date 1769 engraved on the lid, which was given to his gt. gr. father by his cousin, George Robertson.

Since my visit to N. J. and examination of the will (dated Oct. 5, 1763 recorded Nov. 11, 1763) of Thomas Lewis (5 p 75 Vol. X). I am convinced that Phoebe wife of Major Platt Bayless was not his dau. Phoebe (10 v p 138 Vol. VIII).

Osee (Lewis) Bayless' daughter stated that her father (Samuel Bayless) and mother were second cousins, so did my grandfather, Lott Southard Bayless.

Edward Lewis (2) had a daughter Phoebe. Could she have been the wife of Maj. Platt Bayless? That would have made Osee and Samuel second cousins.

BY NETTIE J. SHAFFER, HAMILTON, OHIO.

This record was sent me by Mrs.

Fielding Lewis Williams of Bristol, R. I. and is one she copied from the Louisville Courier Journal. Can it be Samuel (1)?

A family of Lewises moved from Virginia to Georgia, and thence to Edgefield district, South Carolina before the Revolution. Tradition said they were kin to the Washingtons, but so far I have failed to connect them with any family of the name in Virginia.

Samuel Lewis and Mary his wife had ch.

FROM NOTES AND QUERIES.

(concluded from last issue).

On learning of the capture of her husband Mrs. McFarland [Margaret Lynn (74) v p 139 Vol. V] with her infant and maid servant fled from Kit-tanant. After starting the servant reminded Mrs. McFarland of her husband's money and valuable papers, but she desired the girl not to mention any thing of that kind to her at such a moment; yet regardless of the command of her mistress the servant returned to the dwelling and brought all the money and as many papers as she could carry in her apron, overtaking in a short time her mistress, as the snow was very deep. After incredible fatigue, they reached the house of Colonel William Crawford, at Stewart's Crossing, on the Youghioghany, where New Haven now stands. Here the attention of friends soon restored her from the exhaustion caused by carrying her infant such a distance through the snow. She remained at Col. Crawford's until her father, hearing of her situation, sent her brother, Col. William Lewis, to bring her home. Intelligence was received that her husband had been carried captive to Quebec, and the Indians had agreed that if a heavy ransom was paid they would restore McFarland to his friends. Of course this was done, his brother went to Quebec, paid the ransom, and returned with Mr. McFarland to Staunton, Va. to the great joy of the brave Margaret McFarland.

CHAPTER XI.

From The New York Times.

Gen. John R. Lewis (21 v p 95 Vol. VII) U. S. A. retired, one of the best-known men in the Grand Army of the Republic and in army circles, died suddenly in Chicago on Thursday, Feby. 8 1900. At the outbreak of the civil war Gen. Lewis mustered a company of men known as the Fifth Vermont Volunteers, and was commissioned Captain. He was sent South and rose to the rank of Brevet Brigadier General. He took part in the battle of the Wilderness, where he lost an arm. In 1872 he retired from active service in the army and went South, settling in Atlanta. Taking up work there, he soon became identified with the public life of the city, and was appointed Postmaster.

Recently he gave up life in the South and traveled in the West in search of health. He went to Chicago nine weeks ago. He was at that time ill, and, owing to his condition, but few of his army friends knew of his presence in the city.

He was born in Edinburg, Penn., in 1835. He leaves a wife, who, with a son, is in Dawson City, in the Klondike, where they have resided for two years. The other son is detailed at West Point as instructor. [Lt. F. W. Lewis (62) v p 124 Vol. VII.]

From Atlanta, Ga. Journal.

General Lewis was well known and highly respected in this city and state. He was appointed state school commissioner in 1868 by Governor R. B. Bullock, and organized the free school system in the state. He was assistant secretary of the original cotton exposition in 1881, was postmaster here for four years and secretary of the Cotton States and International exposition in 1895. His death will be mourned by a wide circle of friends.

ENGLEWOOD.

Mrs. H. B. Lewis named Englewood. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis came to Chicago in 1867 and settled on the West Side. Mr. Lewis engaged in the lumber and later in the wool business. After the family had been here twelve or fourteen years it was decided that a suburban home was preferable to living in the city. So Mr. and Mrs. Lewis looked about for a place "in the country." They thought the present site of Englewood was just about what they wanted, and settled there.

At the time the district was called Junction Grove, because of the meeting there of the Fort Wayne, Rock Island and Michigan Southern railroads. This wasn't a pretty name for the suburb, the Lewis family thought, even if it did only have a dozen or so houses. So they cast about for a suitable title. Mrs. Lewis finally suggested that it be named after Englewood, N. J. She had visited in the Eastern city and was delighted with it. Correspondence was had with the Postal department at Washington, and it was learned that the New Jersey Englewood was the only Englewood in the United States. This obviated any duplication that might lead to serious mixes in the delivery of mail, and Mrs. Lewis gave the place that name.

Englewood to-day has a large population, estimated at 150,000, and is a city in itself, though a part of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis reside at 6012 Indiana avenue.
