Lewis Day, Sept. 23, 1904.

By Executive Committee, Lewis Day.

All good people by the name of Lewis are requested to join us in making "Lewis Day" the greatest family reunion that has ever taken place. Every person who bears the name of "Lewis" should feel a pride in the name which was described by Washington as "an ancient and honorable family of Lewis." Upon every roll of honor, from the Declaration of Independence to the recent war with Spain, the name of Lewis bears an honored place in the records of our Nation. It should, therefore, be our pleasure, as well as our duty, to do our part towards stimulating pride in the name, and, in so doing, encourage those who come after us, to show their pride in the name by living honorable lives. "Lewis Day" will be one of the events of your life if you will take part in this celebration.

Committees of Reception, Entertainment, etc., have been appointed, and everything will be arranged for your comfort while in St. Louis.

The Executive Committee recommends Camp Lewis and feels under many obligations to the Lewis Publishing Company for the generous offer of half rates and for the good service which will be rendered, in looking after the comfort of our visiting friends.

The Executive Committee also recommends that it will be advisable for all who can do so, to arrange to arrive in St. Louis a day or two before "Lewis Day," in order to be comfortably settled and be able to attend the meeting at 10 a. m. on September 23d, in the Lewis Building.

The Supreme Chancellor has called a meeting of the officers of the Supreme Castle of L. L. L. for Wednesday forenoon, Sept. 21, 1904, at ten o'clock, in the R. I. State Building.

Already many Lewises are securing tents in Lewis Group at "Camp Lewis" from Sept. 18th to Oct. 5th. Among members of the Supreme Castle who have done so are Frank P. Lewis, Supreme Chancellor, Judge N. B. Lewis, Supreme Herald, and Mrs. Eugenia L. Babcock, Supreme Marshall.

It is suggested that all Lewises be presented on arrival and wear a silk badge of red, white and blue held by a button, bearing the picture of Meriwether Lewis, in whose honor we hold the celebration.

Lewis Camp is reported doing well and to be an ideal place for World's Fair visitors.

Each State Society it is expected will have a small silk flag of our country and a banner with the name of the State upon it for use in Convention Hall and in Lewis Camp. Washington reports both secured and ready.

It is certain that a large delegation will be present from each State.

Are you coming?

GENEALOGICAL RECORDS.

Explanations, Abbreviations, Etc.

For convenience the records of the various Lewis families are divided into Books and each Book into chapters. At the head of each Book appears the name of the earliest known ancestor of that family. The List of Books is a complete index to the Books as published to this time.

New Books will be added from time to time as new branches of the Lewis family are found. As soon as Books are proved parts of others they will be merged into the Books to which they belong. Each name is numbered when first printed and whenever the name is repeated this number follows in brackets. The abbreviations commonly used in genealogical work are used: as b. for born; d. died; m. married; m. (1) first wife; dau. daughter; unm. not married; v. p. see page; etc.

Chapter XX.

From Report of U. S. Com. of Education.

Before his first public appearance in Boston, when he may be said to have stormed the key to the situation by his capture of the American Institute of Instruction, Dio Lewis (17 v last issue) had traveled extensively for some years in the Southern and Western States as a week-day lecturer on physiology and hygiene, and as a Sunday orator on temperance. He had given some attention to physical education, withal; and, being well versed in the arts of the platform, was quick and apt in taking advantage of the growing interest in gymnastics. He was unconventional, sympathetic, plausible, oracular and self-sufficient; and the time was ripe for a gymnasiarch of that sort. The doctrines and methods of the Lewis gymnastics, which were novelties and seemed original to most of his followers and imitators, spread rapidly over the whole country, and, if we may credit certain eulogists of the system, even into "Europe, Asia, and Africa." His skill in securing the aid and backing of educationists and notabilities contributed naturally toward making Dio Lewis the most conspicuous luminary, for a time, in the American gymnastical firmament, but failed to make him a fixed star.

Mary Lewis, dau. of Horace G. (3240 v p 52 Vol. XIII) at the graduation exercises, June 22d, at the Westerly High School had an essay on Arminius with the salutatory. There was but one credit difference between the valedictorian and the salutorian who received $20 and $15 in gold respectively for high stand. A year ago at the graduation exercises at the Guilford, Ct., Institute and High School her cousin, Florence Beebe, read one of the best, if not the best essay of her class. Her subject was The Story of the Pacific.

Chapter CCXXX.

From the N. Y. Sun.

Several women prominent in society in Baltimore are interested in law suits involving interests estimated at several hundred millions of dollars, which grew out of a ninety-nine-year lease made by Joseph Ball of Virginia a half-brother of Gen. George Washington's mother.

Of these heiresses Mrs. Andrew Reed is descended from Betty Washington Lewis and Mrs. H. Irvine Keyser of 108 West Monument st., is doubly a Washington, for her mother, a Miss Lewis, who was descended from Betty Washington Lewis, married her cousin, who was a descendant of John Augustine Washington.

The principal estate involved is in Philadelphia. This alone aggregates many millions of dollars. Next in importance is a similar claim upon land in the city of Washington. The estates in Kentucky and Georgia are not as valuable as these, but in area they are much larger

From New Orleans Daily Picayune.

Sidney Francis Lewis (429) reappointed State Engineer, son of Dr. John Hampden Lewis and Annie E. L. DeBritton, was born in New Orleans, Jan'y 28, 1854. He first attended school at the opening of the Civil War at Mrs. Vatinel's, a French school still in existence on Esplanade Avenue. At the age of 10 he entered the higher class of the Public Grammar School, on St. Philip Street, and was graduated at the Boys' High School in 1869 with distinction at the age of 15.

In the fall of 1870 he matriculated at the University of Virginia, one of the youngest students who ever entered the portals of this famous institution, and in June, 1875, he was graduated with the title degree of civil enigneer, having received diplomas in all the studies of the prescribed course. Returning to New Orleans during the final troubles of the reconstruction period, he practiced his chosen profession under difficulties, but in 1877, when the Democratic Party overthrew the Carpet-Bag Government, and General Francis T. Nicholls became Governor of the State he was employed in the office of the State Engineer's Department.

Sidney F. Lewis, C. E., New Orleans.

In 1880, by resignation of the Chief State Engineer, Major B. M. Harrod, Mr. Lewis was promoted by Governor L. A. Wiltz to the position of State Engineer, which position he has held ever since, having been commissioned by every Democratic Governor of the State of Louisiana since 1880. By seniority he is the oldest State engineer in the service.

Final argument was heard March 31, 1904, in Philadelphia, Pa., by Joseph H. Klemmer, Register of Wills, in the contest over the will and codicil of Willing Francis Lewis who d at Dieppe, France, and at the conclusion the Register reserved his decision.

By the original will, Mr. Lewis left his entire fortune, valued at $200,000, to his uncle, Saunders Lewis, of this city with the exception of a bequest of $30,000 to his Parisian housekeeper. In the codicil executed in 1893 the entire estate was devised to Madame Jemain. Both Saunders Lewis and Madame Jemain died before the testator.

The heirs to the estate number about twenty. If the codicil is held to be valid, the testator will be considered to have died intestate, and accordingly the estate will be divided among the next of kin and heirs at law. If the codicil is invalid, the four children of Saunders Lewis are the only beneficiaries, Dr. Morris J. Lewis, John T. Lewis, Mrs. Bessie L. Meade and Saunders Lewis, Jr.

Chas. Denison Lewis, M. D. (14) was born in Windsor county, Vt., June 6, 1817. He came of good New England stock. His grandfather, Dr. Joseph Lewis (3) was a soldier of the Revolution and Keturah Denison, his mother, was a direct descendant of George Denison, who achieved distinction as a soldier in the army of Cromwell. Dr. Lewis took the degrees of A. B. and A. M. at Norwich University and in 1842 graduated in medicine from Dartmouth College, N. H. He began the practice of his profession at Norwich, but shortly thereafter in 1842, he migrated to Kentucky and settled in Kenton county, where he remained until the following year, 1843, when he located at Dry Ridge, where he continuously resided until his death. In 1847 he married Miss Caroline Matilda Cannon, who was born in Bourbon county, Ky. in 1825. To this union six children were born,

Clippings.

Prof. E. P. Lewis of the University of California, who has received a grant of $500 from the Carnegie Institution, has for some time been carrying on extended researches in the spectra of vapors and gases. He has particularly directed his attention to gases under different physical conditions and to mixtures of gases. The work was done very inadequately and on a small scale three decades ago. Professor Lewis has gone at the task on a much more ambitious basis, and has found his work hindered because his apparatus is not good enough. With the $500 just appropriated he will purchase large quartz prisms and lenses from a firm in Paris. The results of his research will be published under the auspices of the Carnegie Institution.
