GENEALOGICAL RECORDS.

Explanations, Abbreviations, etc.

For convenience the records of the various Lewis families are divided into Books and each Book into chapters. At the head of each Book appears the name of the earliest known ancestor of that family. The List of Books is a complete index to the Books as published to this time. New Books will be added from time to time as new branches of the Lewis family are found. As soon as Books are proved parts of others they will be merged into the Books to which they belong. Each name is numbered when first printed and whenever the name is repeated this number follows in brackets. The abbreviations commonly used in genealogical work are used: a3 b. for born; d. died; m. married; m. (1) first wife; dau. daughter; unm. not married; v. p. see page, etc.

BOOK XXIV.

GEORGE LEWIS, Barnstable, Mass.

CHAPTER CXXI.

WHO WERE THE CHILDREN OF GEORGE LEWES?

The time has come when it seems necessary for LEWISIANA to take some stand on this question. Deane in his History of Scituate gives one set of children, Savage in his Genealogical Dictionary another while later writers have followed one or both. Mr. George Lewis of Hingham who started the records of this Book in our paper gave the number as ten and then omitted one who undoubtedly was a child of George Lewes. Further as if this was not confusion enough, Thomas (4) son of George (1) has been assigned in the pages of our family paper no less than three different sets of children. The late Amos Otis Esq., than whom no one was better posted in Barnstable genealogy wrote after careful investigation. "The identity of the names in the families of George Lewes of Barnstable, and Edmund Lewes of Lynn, misled Mr. Deane. He that carefully compares the genealogy of these families will be satisfied that Mr. Deane erred in saying George Lewes had sons Nathaniel, 1645, and Joseph, 1647, born in Barnstable. These names do not occur in the town or church records, nor in the will of Goodman Lewes, though he names all his other children. Mr. Deane also says that Thomas (4), son of George removed from Barnstable to Swansea, and there had Samuel 1672, and Hepsibah 1674, and that Joseph of Hingham (Book XLII v p 27, Vol. VIII) was son of George. These errors have been copied and perpetuated by the many who have undertaken to write the genealogy of the Lewis family.

In the investigation of the history of Thomas Lewes (4), I have been aided by Thomas Lewis, Jr., Esq., and S. P. Bourne, Esq., of Falmouth. The colonial records, the town and church of Barnstable and of Falmouth, the Probate and the records of the proprietors of Sucknessett have been carefully examined. The result of the investigation is this. he was a son of George Lewes. married and lived in Barnstable as stated, and died in Falmouth after 1703. but these records failed to show where he resided from 1670 to 1677. This gap covers the period when Mr. Deane says he was at Swansea, was Selectman, etc., and had by wife Hannah, Samuel, 23d April, 1673, and Hepsibah. 15th Nov.. 1674. Mr. Deane's statement of his removal to Swansea is apparently right: but there are other records and other conflicting facts. Thomas Lewis of Lynn (3.XXXIII v p 8 Vol IV), son of Edmund, whose wife was Hannah Baker, removed to Swansea about 1670. I have not space to state all the facts [but for LEWISIANA and its readers the question is of such importance that all the facts are essential and the pages of LEWISIANA are open to whomever can produce them.—ED.]. The evidence in my judgment is conclusive, that Thomas Lewis of Swansea was a son of Edmund of Lynn. The subsequent history of his family is known—he was not a son of George of Barnstable."

CHAPTER CXXII.

FROM SWIFT'S BARNSTABLE FAMILIES.

Before October, 1636, Goodman Lewes had built a house on Kent street, in Scituate, so named because the residents thereon came from that county, and were known as "the men of Kent." His lot was the first south of Meeting House Lane and contained five acres, and his house built thereon stands No. 18 on Mr. Lothrop's list of the houses built in that town. On the removal of Goodman Lewes in 1639 to Barnstable, he sold to Richard Willis of Plymouth, his dwelling house and lot containing five acres, one acre and three-fourths of swamp, and three acres of marsh ground, and his right to commonage for the sum of £19 sterling.

George Lewes's (1) home lot in Barnstable was the second west of the Hyannis road. The land on the south side of the highway, between that road and Freeman Hinckley's or old Court House Lane, was divided into five houselots of eight acres each, or four between Hyannis Road and the Railroad Avenue. Mr. Nathaniel Holmes and his sons are the present owners of the Lewes lot. He also owned an acre of meadow on the opposite side of the highway, with the high hill on the north, still known as Lewes Hill. He had ten acres of land in the old common field, now owned by Solomon Hinckley and Alvan Howes, and four acres of marsh at Sandy Neck.

His lots were as good planting lands as any in the east parish. "Ultima die Januarii, 1654"—5, he sold these four parcels of real estate in Barnstable, with his dwelling-house, to Samuel Mayo for £28 5 shillings sterling. He owned three acres and a half of meadow at Mystic Landing granted to him by the town July 26, 1654. This he sold May 27, 1661, to John Thompson.

His great lot is thus described on the records: "Sixty acres of upland more or less lying by ye pond commonly called Rowley's pond, at ye easterly end thereof, running 80 rods easterly, and 120 southerly and northerly, that is to say, from outside to outside." This tract of land he sold to his sons Edward and John in 1652 and some part of it is yet owned, by his descendants. Whether George Lewes ever resided on this land I am not informed. His son Edward's (8) house stood on the northeast of the pond, called at first Rowley's, then Lewes's and now Hathaway's pond.

In 1654, before the sale of his estate to Samuel Mayo, Goodman Lewes had "let and farmed for some certain years," the estate of Mr. Dimmock, whose health was feeble. It appears that he occupied for a number of years the ancient fortification house-

JOSEPH LEWIS, Swansea, Mass.

CHAPTER XVIII.

BY DAVID H. BROWN, WEST MEDFORD.

MASSACHUSETTS.

It has always been a tradition that Joseph Lewis of Swansea was in the King Philip's war and was among the first to fall. Deane's History of Scituate and Lewis' History of Lynn both state that such was the fact but it has been difficult to get any historical data on the subject. The following communication taken from the New England Historical and Genealogical Register for Jan. 1898 p 145 seems to be conclusive.

According to Hubbard's Narrative of the Indian Wars.—"On the 24th of of June 1675 was the alarm of war first sounded in Plymouth Colony when eight or nine of the English were slain
in and about Swansea" but no names were given.

The Plymouth Colony Records of births, marriages and burials contain the following burials at Swansea June 24, 1675 as reported by the town clerk of Swansea at that time and there are no other deaths or burials recorded in Swansea on that day.

The following are the names as recorded:

|-------------------------|------------------------|
| Joseph Lewis of Swansea | buried 24 June 1675. |
| Robert Jones | " buried 24 June 1675. |
| John Jones | " buried 24 June 1675. |
| Nehemiah Allen | " buried 24 June 1675. |
| William Cohn | " buried 24 June 1675. |
| John Salsbury | " buried 24 June 1675. |
| William Salsbury | " buried 24 June 1675. |
| John Hall | " buried 24 June 1675. |

This record at Plymouth made at that time from data sent by the town clerk seems to settle this interesting question in regard to the names of the first to fall in King Philip's War. See Hubbard's Narrative p 59 of the edition of 1775 also Bliss' History of Rehoboth, Bodge's Soldiers in King Philip's War page 463 and Plymouth Colony Records of Births, Marriages and Burials Vol. I, page 64.

BY GEO. HARLAN LEWIS, N.Y. CITY.

The physical memorandum of Charles Lewis (161) of Malden, Mass., of his grt. gr. father, Benjamin (1) is that he was a man of medium height thickset, inclined to corpulency, about 180 to 200 pounds in weight, of great humor and joviality of disposition. His oldest son Benjamin (2) settled in Milford and removed to Lyndeboro. N.H. and died there. His son James (5) settled in Groton and died there. It is supposed that three of his brothers died there also. These five each one was 6 feet in height.

Isaac Lewis was brought up by Benjamin Lewis (13) father of Charles. He was a cooper and removed to Williamstown, Vt.

CHAPTER III.

FROM HISTORY OF THE BENCH AND BAR OF MISSOURI.

Capt. Geo. RoBards (13vp 173 Vol. VIII) b Aug. 5, christened in the Church of England. August 31, 1760. in Goochland County Virginia. Enlisted Feb. 1777, when 16 years old. for three years in Captain Moses Hawkins' (killed at Brandywine) Company. Colonel Charles Lewis' Fourteenth Virginia Regiment Continental Regulars. Engaged (north of the Potomac) in the battles of Brandywine (was promoted Sergeant and transferred to the Tenth Virginia Regiment), Germantown (wintered at Valley Forge), Monmouth and Stony Point: and when term ended was honorably discharged. He was when 19 years old, Feb. 1780, commissioned Lieutenant by Governor Thomas Jefferson. Colonel Lucas' Fourth Virginia Regiment, State Line, engaged in the battle of Camden, was appointed Captain in Aug. 1781, served under General Lafayette in Virginia. and until the close of the war. He married, 1785, Elizabeth Barbara Sampson dau of Charles Sampson. They moved to Kentucky in 1791, where, in Mercer County, he died testator, 1833.

His grandson, John Lewis RoBards b in Hustonville, Ky., May 8, 1838 is Vice-President of the Missouri Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Colonel RoBards, as known to his friends, is a man of courtly, though commanding presence. With a genial disposition he unites a delicate sense of personal honor. His bearing is of that military type which is wont to challenge the attention of strangers. It is not in his nature to seek public position, and yet no citizen is more signally qualified for the higher honors of official station. Though hampered by a misfortune to his vision he has never desisted from arduous application to professional toil. There is a strong pathos in his zealous and lifelong devotion to the ethics of the law. He has been a close and constant student of legal science. No effort can surpass in tenacity or in fidelity his preparation of a brief, nor can any reverse impair his fortitude. His successes at the bar have proved illustrious as well as substantial. He enjoys a capacity for infinite detail. No item escapes his vigilance. After so many years of busy employment he is never unready for account concerning any past transaction. Mount Olivet Cemetery, the principal adornment and the permanent pride of Hannibal, is his special work, as it will be his enduring memorial, and during a quarter of a century of noble effort in moments of intermission from professional cares he has wrought his benevolence to a standard of admirable excellence. The finest trait in his character is his singularly lofty and unflinching devotion to his wife, his children and his domestic fireside. Conformably he is found richly endowed with purity of thought as well as of action. Remembered as a boy with ruddy countenance and flaxen ringlets trailing on his shoulders, known as a man who has readily and triumphantly breasted the buffets of life, he will transmit to yet later days the untarnished inheritance of a good name and a distinguished record.

CHAPTER XIV.

BY CAROLINE E. (LEWIS) TARBOX.
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

All that I have ever learned of Abigail Middleton, wife of William (1) is "that she was short in figure, a seventh day Baptist and always wore three strings of gold beads around her neck which were buried with her."

The reference to the capture of the ship Hannah in 1812 (v p 173 Vol. VI), I think a mistake. The English ship Hannah was captured by the Minerva off New London, in August 1781 by Capt. Dudley Saltonstall. Sir Henry Clinton was so exasperated that he determined to make New London pay for it. On Sept. 5th a fleet of eight ships bombarded Fort Griswold and Fort Trumbull. My gr. father William (2) was on the Minerva at that time and his brother Nathaniel (5) was at Fort Griswold.

COLLEGE BASE BALL PLAYERS

Edward M. Lewis, formerly pitcher for Williams College, and this year and last in the box for the Boston champions, says: "A player may be very skillful when in his college, but he will find on joining the professional ranks, especially in the big league, how much he has to learn. In college it was a case of speed and curves. The batsman would bite at about anything. In the league it is a case of control. The young pitcher must learn to put the ball where the batsman will have a chance to hit.

"I would advise any young man of backbone who wants to use base ball as a stepping stone for his life's work to go into it. There is good money in it. Then there is the opportunity to visit the large cities of the land without any expense and on the road one's time is practically his own."

DAY OF PRAYER AT BOWDOIN.

Rev. George Lewis, D. D., of South Berwick addressed the students and his appeal was direct to their heroic side, pointing the finger to the work God has laid out for a man to do, and showing that by doing his work rightly one can help the whole world to move in time and tune with God. Religion, he said, is not a sneakingly sordid running to cover from future punishment, nor a passive optimistic resting in the divine embrace such as abnormal children, broken-down men and weak women crave. It is a power to translate God's glorious purpose into concrete fact, sweeping bad kings and bad laws from the earth and putting good ones in their place. Its hope of heaven is not compensation for the sacrifices and sorrows of a religious life on earth. On the contrary, the religious life here and now is the life that is full of high fellowship with God's purpose for the world.

Getting the Many to Work.

BY REV. ALEXANDER LEWIS, PH. D.

The testimony is quite universal that the work of our churches is done by a few. A scattered dozen or possible score bear the burdens. The paying and the praying is never proportionately divided: but a handful of people must, if the work is done at all, do more than their share.

Before every church the problem is how to bring together the work and the workers. There is more work to be done than there are workers to do it, and many more people who could work than do work. The trouble is not that people won't work, for they will if they are assigned to the right task with the right people.
